C00103 ⌵	C6 Legal / Contract Terms	Hunger Crisis Amid Lavish Infrastructure Budget	Despite a UN warning that 34 million Nigerians face hunger, the Nigerian government allocated ₦712.3 billion to renovate an airport. This reveals a misalignment between urgent human needs and government spending priorities.	Urgent realignment of budget priorities to address hunger, food security, and basic welfare of Nigerian citizens before funding grand infrastructure projects. What Could Go Wrong? Continued hunger, malnutrition, public unrest, erosion of trust in government, and further deterioration of human development indices.	34 million Nigerians are at risk of hunger; meanwhile, a massive airport renovation budget has been approved amid these conditions.	Implement emergency food relief, suspend non-essential infrastructure funding, and establish an independent prioritisation body for budget scrutiny.
